Fund aim

The investment objective of the Fund is to acquire freehold ground rents which offer a consistent income stream and capital growth prospects. The aim is to achieve a total return for the Fund in excess of 5% per annum for Shareholders.

Fund characteristics

Capital appreciation prospects

The value of the fund's freehold ground rent portfolio is determined by an independent valuer on a monthly basis, applying a multiple to each of the current ground rents. This multiple is influenced by the outstanding term of each lease plus the potential for future increases in the rent. Contrary to commercial property values, capital appreciation arises as leases approach expiry, because payment from tenants to extend their lease rises as the lease length shortens.

Experienced specialist investment team

TIME:Freehold taps into the entire breadth of the award-winning TIME Group's investment platform. This brings a wealth of experience and expertise, spanning long income, renewables, infrastructure, and real estate.

The security of ground rents

As the freeholder, the fund has the right to start forfeiture proceedings if there's non-payment of the ground rent. As the ground rent is usually a fraction of the value of the leasehold property, the lessee or his mortgage provider will almost inevitably settle up rather than present the fund with such a windfall.

Consistently positive income returns

Due to the nature and longevity of ground rents, the income returns tend to be very predictable. During a challenging decade for investment, the fund has protected investors' wealth far more effectively than many other asset classes.

Reliable income and reliable indexation

As the freeholder, the fund charges an annual ground rent to the leaseholder. If the leaseholder fails to meet their small ground rent, they are in danger of forfeiting their lease, so this income stream has proved highly secure over the fund's 26-year history.

Lower volatility

Ground rents are a form of property investment, but historically their values have been far less volatile than residential or commercial property.

Featured asset - Lockes Wharf

With spectacular views over the Thames to Greenwich Palace and the Royal Naval College, this modern development is very convenient for Canary Wharf and all its amenities and transport links. The asset was purchased in April 2003 with 978 years remaining on the lease. The property is made up of 437 units with a rent review every 25 years.

Fund manager commentary

The Fund continues its 26 year track record of positive inflation beating returns, generating a total return (inclusive of income 4.21% and capital gains 2.28%) for the twelve months to 31 December 2019 of 6.49%.

The Fund's assets are very long dated (with an average lease length in excess of 100 years) and have much greater security of income than standard property. The Fund owns over 64,400 freeholds with a gross annual ground rent income of circa £9.0 million. 86% of its freeholds have a form of inflation protection through periodic uplifts linked to Retail Price Index (RPI), property values or fixed uplifts.

As of 13 June 2019, a 5% dilution levy will be applied to subscriptions into the Fund. This levy remains constantly under review at each dealing day.

Following on from the Government's consultation on "Tackling unfair practices in the leasehold market" which ran from July 2017 to September 2017 and its subsequent response paper which was issued in December 2017; the Government asked the Law Commission to consider further measures that could assist existing leaseholders of houses and to prioritise enfranchisement solutions, focussing on making it quicker, easier and cheaper to enfranchise.

The Law Commission issued a paper in July 2018 which set out a number of potential solutions followed by a detailed consultation paper in September 2018 which detailed proposals for a new coherent and streamlined enfranchisement regime for leaseholders of houses and flats.

In January 2020, the Law Commission published its report on valuation in enfranchisement ("Report on options to reduce the price payable"), which will be followed later this year by three further reports attending to other aspects of leasehold reform. The main focus of the report was to suggest methods of making enfranchisement quicker, easier and cheaper, saving leaseholders of houses and flats money, whilst ensuring sufficient compensation is paid to landlords to reflect their legitimate property interests.

The independent valuer of the Fund, BNP Paribas, values the property portfolio in light of the current market conditions and taking into account the uncertainty of any legislative initiatives. The valuer has commented that nothing in this report gives sufficient clarity or creates additional concern that would cause a change to the existing valuation approach.

We therefore await the additional Law Commission reports expected in Spring 2020 as well as a decision from the Government and Parliament at some point thereafter. For the time being, until there is more clarity on any proposed reforms to the residential leasehold market, the fund is expected to continue to avoid acquiring further properties, unless contractually committed to do so (at present the value of property exchanged but not completed is £0.08 million). Any gains derived from the Fund's property portfolio are likely to arise from uplifts in rental income as leases pass through their review periods or through lease extensions. As a result, looking forward, the Fund may generate returns more commensurate with its target total return of 5% per annum.
